1. Word of Welcome

Dear colleague,

On behalf of ESGENA and the Austrian Society of Endoscopy and Gastroenterology Nurses and Associates (IVEPA) it is our great pleasure to invite you to the 18th ESGENA Conference which will be held during the 22nd United European Gastroenterology Week, 18-20 October 2014, in Vienna, Austria.

Following past meetings in 1998 and 2008, this is the third time that the medical and nursing community of Gastroenterology and Endoscopy will meet in Vienna. Much like the city of Vienna, both UEG and ESGENA, stay for continuity as well as for medical and nursing progress in Gastroenterology.

The ESGENA conference is not only an opportunity to meet colleagues from throughout Europe, but also from North and South America, Africa, Asia and Australia. The exchange with nurses from all over the world combined with the opportunity to attend the medical programme of the UEG Week ensures the ESGENA conference is an exceptional educational event.

The three day ESGENA conference will include state-of-the-art lectures, free papers & posters, lunch sessions, several workshops with hands-on training and live transmissions covering current topics in Gastroenterology and Endoscopy.

We hope to welcome you to the 18th ESGENA Conference in October 2014 in Vienna, Austria.

Michael Ortmann, President of ESGENA

Anita Beyer, President of IVEPA

ESGENA-Workshops on Saturday, October 18, 2014

Workshop 1: Professional development program on haemostasis

This workshop is organised by Boston Scientific

14:00-15:30 Lounge L/M

Workshop language: English

Chairs: Andreas Stipas, France

Aims & Content

Management of Gastrointestinal (GI) hemorrhage is the most acute treatment undertaken in the Endoscopy unit and can lead to potentially fatal outcomes. Clinical best practice is essential to help minimise the risks involved when dealing with these patients.

By the end of the workshop, participants should

- gain an understanding of the principles of endoscopic hemostasis to help them deliver clinical best practice.
- Understand the disease states and treatment options within endoscopic hemostasis
- Understand the setup and use of hemostasis devices
- To have gained a hands on experience of the main hemostasis devices

Workshop 2: Improving practice through structured projects

This workshop is organised by ESGENA

14.00-15:30 Lounge 6

Workshop language: English

Chairs: Ulrike Beilenhoff, Germany
Christiane Neumann, United Kingdom

Aims & Content

The professional duty of each nurse includes sharing good evidence based practice. This can be done by teaching staff in one's own department, publication in journals or conference presentations. Most practitioners have areas of practice they want to audit, formally evaluate or research, but how this is done correctly is not normally taught during nurse training.

The workshop aims to introduce nurses to the principles of good investigative practice when

- Choosing a topic to examine/study
- Choosing an appropriate methodology
- Evaluating the findings
- And then producing an appropriate abstract for a conference

Advice will also be given on how to

- Produce a poster which is both scientific and visually attractive
- Present a poster at a meeting to the Poster Round Judges

Discuss your future projects with an experienced colleague

Many people inexperienced in designing and presenting a project struggle to submit an abstract that is acceptable. ESGENA would like to help those planning to present their work at the next conference. For this reason we have scheduled Workshop 2: "Improving Practice Through Structured Projects" on Saturday, 14.00-15:30, Lounge 6.

For those in need of extra help we have set aside time so you can discuss your planned projects or studies with Christiane Neumann, who is qualified in Research and Project Methodology, has carried out and published more than 30 project and research papers, and has more than 15 years experience on various research ethics committees. She will be available for INDIVIDUAL discussion, exchange of ideas, and support on:

- Saturday, 18th October 2014 after the workshop from 15.30-16.30 hours
- Sunday, 19th October 2014 in the lunch break from 13.00-14.00 hours

Please contact the ESGENA Membership Desk in front of Hall G/H if you would like to book an advice session.

Workshop 3: IDB – Update

This workshop is organised by IVEPA

Workshop language: Germany

14:00-15:30 Lounge 5

Chair: Anita Beyer, Austria
Rita Lindenthaler, Austria

Aims & Content

Ulcerative colitis and Crohn's disease affect all age groups and can start at any age. The highest number of new cases occurs in young people aged between 15 and 45. The treatment goal is to control symptoms, modify the disease process and improve quality of life. Part one of the workshop will give an update about Drug interactions in IBD patients.

Crohn's disease and ulcerative colitis affect women in their child-bearing years. The multidisciplinary approach is a key issue which helps to achieve successful outcomes for mother and baby. Continued medical management during pregnancy is crucial in optimizing outcomes. The second part of the workshop will focus on IBD medication during pregnancy

Workshop 4: Hands-on training on bio simulators

This workshop is organised by ESGENA

14:00-15:30 ESGE Learning Area

Workshop language: English

Chairs: Evi Baumann, Switzerland,
Eric Pflimlin, Switzerland

Aims & Content

Hands-on training on bio simulators (pig models) under the supervision of highly experienced tutors: Participants will have the opportunity to perform endoscopic techniques on the following topics:

- OGD with Injection techniques, Ligation, Clipping, APC
- Colonoscopy with Polypectomy, EMR and APC
- ERCP with stone extraction and stenting

As participation will be limited, registration will be treated on a first-come-first-served basis. Tickets will be available onsite only – at the entrance of the ESGE Learning Area.

Workshop 5: Endoscope Drying and Storage: A new view

This workshop is organised by OLYMPUS EUROPA SE & CO. KG

16.00-17.30 Lounge L/M

Workshop language: English

Chairs: Holger Biering, Germany
Reinhard Blum, Germany

Aims & Content

Endoscope drying and storage was handled in various ways in the past, although it always was an integral part in the reprocessing workflow. Procedures were mainly up to local or regional guidelines. Since focus on hygiene aspects have increased quite significantly in Europe, more awareness was as well given to the drying and storage of non-sterilise medical devices, like flexible medical endoscopes. Consequently a new European norm dealing with drying and storage cabinets is under preparation.

This workshop is intended to:

- update about latest European trends in endoscope drying and storage
- reflect about the importance of drying and storage of endoscope
- share ideas and practical experience about endoscope drying and storage
- inform about options of full process documentation incl traceability

Presentations:

The new EN16442 European norm
Lionel Pineau, France

Importance of drying and storage of endoscopes
Tina Bradley, United Kingdom

Working with drying cabinets in the daily workflow
Jadranka Brljak, Croatia

Workshop 6: Electrosurgery – recommendations for applications and prevention of complication

This workshop is organised by ERBE Elektromedizin GmbH

16.00-17.30 Lounge 6

Workshop language: English

Chairs: Thomas Beck, Germany
Björn Fehrke, Switzerland

Aims & Content

Electrosurgery offers the possibility of pressure-free and precise cutting and at the same time control of bleeding during endoscopic resection techniques. With argon plasma coagulation tissue can be devitalized. The water-jet surgery provides additional options for resection.

The aim of the workshop is to

- To update on principles of electrosurgery and relevant safety measures
- To demonstrate different settings for different applications like Polypectomy, EMR, ESD, Papilloectomy, etc.

in order to achieve max safety and to prevent adverse events and complications

Workshop 7: Practical training with models - How to make dummies

This workshop is organised by IVEPA

16.00-17.30 Lounge 5

Workshop language: German

Chairs: Michael Ortmann, Switzerland

Aims & Content

In order to simulate realistic training scenarios, training on dummies is a very effective and efficient way of learning. However, it is not necessary to use complicated and expensive bio simulators like pig dummies for daily hands-on-training or smaller workshops; artificial models and dummies can easily be "built" locally.

The attendees will get information

- about commercially available dummies and
 - how to produce cheap, simple and very effective self-made dummies for practical training in their own practice by using a combination of plastic dolls, meat, fruit and vegetables.

Workshop 8: Hands-on training on bio simulators

This workshop is organised by ESGENA

16:00-17:30 ESGE Learning Area

Workshop language: English

Chairs: Evi Baumann, Switzerland,
Eric Pflimlin, Switzerland

09:40-10:00 Is there a role for nurses in endoscopy?

Irene Dunkley, United Kingdom

L-30

With reduced number of qualified nurses available and financial pressure in national health systems, there has been an increase in delegation of duties to non-registered staff within the endoscopy setting: Cost effective health care and financial pressures raises the questions - Should we simply use cheaper staff to care for patients? Are nurses necessary in Endoscopy? Irene Dunkley challenges the current and future roles critically:

Hans Härting, Austria

L-31

Checklists and briefings before take-off are gold standard in aviation: They allow an early detection of potential problems and ensure safety of passengers and crew: Checklists and briefings are increasingly used in health care: Hans Härting, Austrian airline pilot, will identify similarities to Endoscopy as both workplaces require good preparation and quick reactions, not only in emergency situations:

ESGE Learning Area

Visit the ESGE Learning Area

The European Society of Gastrointestinal Endoscopy welcomes all delegates of the UEG Week to the ESGE Learning Area where many accomplished doctors and nurses volunteer their expertise for you: to promote good endoscopy, to show the basics as well as the latest developments, to support training and to offer small-group teaching activities to everyone with a real interest in the how and why of current endoscopy. The ESGE Learning Area provides a unique and ideal platform for live encounter and interaction among aspiring endoscopists and renowned experts in the field. Please come and be a part of it!

Hands-on Training Centre

Test your skills and experience the latest technology. The 90-minute training sessions in the Hands-on Theatre offer unique access to state of the art endoscopic equipment and accessories. Participants will have the opportunity to look, learn, ask questions and perform techniques themselves under personal doctor and nurse tutoring. In cooperation with ESGENA, the aim of this activity is to increase the awareness of diagnostic and therapeutic techniques and to offer delegates the possibility of checking their skills.

Registration for the Hands-on Sessions in the Operating Theatre: Registration is required on Saturday, Sunday and Monday. Please register at the ESGE desk in the Learning Area. Participation will be on a first-come-first-served basis. To maintain a high standard of teaching each workstation is limited to a maximum of eight participants.

Please note that some procedures require prior experience and skills. Please refer to the on-site course description posted in the ESGE Learning Area.

Endoscopic training on Symbionix GI Simulators is available on a walk-in basis throughout the conference week.

ESGE Lecture Theatre

Highly qualified and well-known endoscopists have been invited to present their views and experience with current endoscopic procedures and techniques in the ESGE Lecture Theatre. Their counterparts in discussion are equally well-known, in several cases more senior specialists, whose role it is to moderate the talk and perhaps critically question the case at hand. The Lecture Theatre is open to all delegates of the UEG Week. This is your opportunity to talk with the experts. Walk in and take a seat!
